PANAMA CITY.

The sickly condition of this city appears to be slightly librating, thanks, perhaps, to the arrival of several tuns of the but, as there are yet many menths of rainy weather to be encountered, we may be troubled somewhat with fever, but it is to be hoped with nothing more serious. Foreigners, however, merely passing through, or staying a few days, are not so affected, and inchy who even intend to make the piace their permanent residence escape for a time. But the process of scelimatization naturally has its pains and penaltics, and the "Panama fever" is one of these. Another cause of fover is the injudicious use of the fruits of the country, foreigners having an inclination to "taste and try," and before they are aware of what they have been they are sick with the fover. In the rainy season the fruits are especially unhealthy; therefore, as a caution to those who are about to visit this city, it is well to say, "Let everything of the kind alone." A chapter might be written on this subject, but a simple warning may effect the desired object. Saniary regulations are, however, very much wanted here, and have been called for by the press.

There are fumors of an expectant restaurant for during the coming few months; but a careful inquir; upon the subject almost leads your correspondent to believe they are merely vague alarms—something like the many reported midnight advances of the enemy during the early stages of the late civil war. Still there may be some alight grains of truth in the rumor; for revolutions often break out at ment's warning, and any sound of dissension among the untives should be guardedly and closely listened to, and the actions that follow as carefully watched. The news from this Republic shows great progress. The codes planting is increasing rapidly, and the making of grooten cloths, called Jerga, by the Indians, has become valuable as an increase to the exports of the country. The only news hero is in the progressive way. Hitherto but one newspaper, the Official Gasette, a very poor journel, was all of which the country could boast; but mother journalist has started the Bulletis—or Buletis, for it is peblished in the Spanish language—which bids fair to putstrip its older companion. Public attention in Chili is greatly occupied on the question of the loan which the Government is about to effect, but nothing has been definitely arranged at present. The amendment proposed in the Sonate was rejected in the Chamber of Deputies, and the project finally passed both Houses in the original form, with some slight modifications. The Minister of Finance in consequence applied to the bankers and merchants for a loan of four millions and a half of dollars; the amount was subscribed for, and the matter was supposed to have been arranged. It seems, however, that there was a wish on the part of some of the principal subscribers that the Government. for, and the matter was supposed to have been arranged. It seems, however, that there was a wish on the part of some of the principal subscribers that the Government should compromise itself not jo prosecute an offensive war, and merely act on the defensive. The Minister naturally energia declined to bring the Government to any particular line of conduct, and consequently the arrangements are suspended, as there is no doubt whatevor that unless the Government can raise the loan on the torms proposed by them they will have to resort to a paper issue. It is a great pity that any attempt should be made to hamper their action, when every other point had been satisfactorily arranged. This delay in sottling so vital a question greatly affects commercial interests and interferes with all foreign trade.

The journals are full of humorous ridicule at the boasting discussions in the Spanish Cortex relative te the reported defens of the South American allies, and assert that such co-duct on the part of defeated Spain is unworthy of anything more than laughter.

The merchants of Chili now believe the war at an end, and are endeavoring to recommence and continue business operations to the best of their ability.

PERU.

The news from Peru is of special importance. On the arrival of foreign vessels in Peru they may only enter the chief ports, viz: Iquique, Arica. Islay, Callae, Huanchaco, San José and Paita. The Captain of any vessel anchoring in any other port of the Coast will be fined $500; should he land or receive on board any passenger or correspondence he will incur a fine of $1,000; and should he land or receive on board any merchandise he will subject the ship and cargo landed to the penalty of confuscation. Any communication with the shore is prohibited until after the v sit of Captain of the Port or of a Custom House officer, to whom the manifest of the ship's cargo must be delivered in whatever language it may be; but in it must be stated the description of packages, marks, numbers, and consignees, the tunnage of the vessel, flaz, port of departure as well as any other port in which the vessel may have touched during the voyage. Should no manifest be forthcoming, then the bills of lading must be presented, together with a list of the ship's stores and provisions. Two days will be allowed at Callao, Iquique, San José and Huanchaeo, three days in Arica and Paita, and fire days in Islay for the correction of errors in the ship's manifest. At the expiration of that time, if two corrected copies of the manifest are not presented, a fine of $100 will be inflicted, and the original manifest ratified.

PARAGUAY.

The news from La Plata shows still favorably for the Paraguayans. The only hope of the Allies is in the plan that Admiral Tamandre's gunboat-fleet may be able to bombard Loper's Paraguayan camp and destro, all works. The latter has, however, the best artillery, so the chances are slim; besides which, the Allies are quarreling among themselves. To L.---

On hor Birthday. Here is the stile on which I leaned; -You golden willow bending over:—
There is the same blue sky that smiled
The day that I murmured, "I am thy lover."

This is the stone on which she sat; See, here, the bright moss greenly springing. And, look, overhead the same blue birds To and fro from the old nest winging! Here is the briar whose flowers she pulled Leaf by leaf, as she heard my pleading. Stirred by the same sea-scented wind That laughed as it flew, love's pang unheeding. Sky, trees, flowers the same; but I-

Where is the boy, whose young heart burning. Leaped to one heart in the awest, wide world! Stilled on one bosom his passionate yearning!

Silk-soft hair, and hazel eyes; Limbs that lightly moved or stood;
A heart that beat with a loyal love
For all things beautiful, true and good; Follies that fleeked this fairest fruit,

Sins that spotted this whitest page;— Changed without, but the same within, Life's flower untouched by the frost of age! Thou, too, beloved, art still the same;

Deep heart passionate, tender and true; The same clear spirit, and glancing wit Piercing the armor of Folly through;

Sad, olivaster, Spanish face; Sweet, low brow under shadowy hair; Dark eyes, mingled of dew and fire; Voice like a song-bird's, heard through a prayer. Time, if thou steal her girlish beauty,

Leave her spirit undimmed and free! Touch the rose with thy frosty fingers,— But the rose's perfume stays with me. c. c.

North and South promises during the to move the ca. current month to make a 6 and 7 per cent money market upon good collaterals. The circulating money of the country, instead of being a constantly-increasing amount, as has been the case up to a recent period, is now decreasing, and will continue to do so. The steady absorption of currency by the Treasury, the retirement of old State currency to avoid heavy taxation, and the increased run for currency in moving cotton, cereals, and other crops, are conservative elements, and will create a higher rate of interest as the season advances. Bankers' 60 days sterling bills have sold at 1051@1051; prime are offered at 1061, but cannot be sold in round amounts at better than 105; @ 106. Insurance on United States bonds has been advanced to a per cent, and very large amounts are being sent to Europe. There has been a panic in copper stocks at Boston to-day, with a deavy decline. One operator has failed after giving out $200,000 in his checks, which proved worthless. His broker has also largely overdrawn his account. The de-cline has been as follows for the day: Copper Falls, per share, 25; Franklin, 90; Hancock, 34; Huron, 11; Isle Royal, 3; Minnesots, 5; Quiney, 10.

The Chicago Tribune of Wednesday, says: The Chicago Tribune of Wednesday, saya:

There was a more brisk demand for money to-day from all quarters, and the market was closer than at any time this season. The country banks continue to check freely on their balances. The coumbision merchants are more urgent in their appeals, and a larger amount of mercantile paper is being offered. The volume of curroncy in the vanils of the banks is being greatly reduced, and in order to meet the calls upon them, some of the houses were obliged to "shin it" pretty extensively. Exchange was freely offered, but as none of the banks had any surplus of enrancy to invest, the transactions were exclusively confised to those who require funds in New-York for immediate use.

were exclusively confined to those who require funds in New-York for immediate use.

The leading discount houses are unanimous in pronouncing this the most stringent day they have witnessed this Fall. The paper of those who were entitled to the accommodation, was pussed at the usual rate, 10 per cent, but outside signatures were ignored entirely. For good names the street rates are 12-12 per cent per month.

Exchange was lifeless. In the forenoon round lots of bankers' was hawked around the street at i discount, and the searcity of currency placed a barrier on transactions to any amount. Later in the afternoon there were free sellers at 120 discount, without finding buyers. The counter rates were easier. The general quotations were in 12-12 discount buying and par selling, though in exceptional instances slight concessions were made.

The Maripeas Company has received a telegram from San Francisco dated August 23th, giving an account of the latest run made by the new mill, working Pine Tree ore. The same quairty of rock which by the old process yielded $10, now gives $25 to the tun by the new process. The expense of taking out and working the rock is about $5 per tun. While the old process yielded a profit of only $3, the new mill yields $25 per tun profit.
